Dear Jacques -

I am enclosing an extract from Talmage's review (to appear very soon in Science): I was trying to think of this in reply to the question you brought up in discussion on polymorphism of antibodies. But I haven't so far checked the references. I think Talmage has told me of some extension of this work, but I would have to rely on ~~these papers to put my~~ MONOD for a response (if any) in the discussion.

The Biochemists have just arrived & we look forward to a lot of fun.

It was good to see you,

J. Lederberg

P.S. All of Hel's experiments were with long-immunized animals; Nossal's and White's with short.
